NOTE OF APPRECIATION

When I started to make a few copies of the Garoutte Family History for our own family a few years ago, I had no idea that it would become such an enormous project and end up with two editions of the History. It has been interesting; I have learned much about our heritage and have met or contacted many unknown relatives.

In 1966 as a graduation present to my son, Steven Douglas, I took him and his brother, Donald, on a 38 day tour of the United States. When we stopped in a city, I would check the telephone directory for any Garouttes and then try to contact them. From these contacts much of the material was gathered that has been added to the original book published by William Babington Garoutte, Jr. in 1948.

One of those contacted in the fall of 1966, and to whom much credit goes for the 1968 edition, is Birdeen Yost of Dallas, Oregon. She spent a great deal of time and effort in contacting descendants of Michael Garoutte and did an excellent job of gathering material.

An effort has been made to contact every one and, if some were left out who would like to have been included, I'm truly sorry. The facts and information for this book were taken from material sent in by many interested persons, and through research. There has not been the time nor the ability to authenticate the material, therefore, authenticity cannot be guaranteed of all events. An effort has been made to put the information down in a readable form and connect the lineage to the best of our ability. (This has been difficult at times as there are gaps that made it almost impossible to connect the lineage.) I have tried to use as much of the material as possible, but if you find a few deletions, or omissions, some deleting was necessary due to the enormous amount of material submitted.

For all of you who cooperated so wonderfully with material, pictures, etc. I want to say a great big "Thanks so much, without your contributions this book would not have been possible."

In 1975, two hundred years will have passed since Michael Garoutte landed in America to help the colonists in their fight for freedom from England.

It has been my honor and pleasure to compile this 200th anniversary edition of the Garoutte History and I hope that each of you will enjoy and treasure it in memory of our honorable heritage.

It is my hope that some day in the future, someone will up-date this history in order to keep it current so that the family can maintain a perpetual history of its' members.

In this third edition of the Garoutte History, the type has been changed so it will be easier to find new material that has been added. Also space has been left throughout the book for additional material that you might want to add, or notes to make.

Due to the allotted number of pages, some of the material sent to me had to be condensed which I regret very much.

FOREWORD
By William Babington Garoutte

In the hope that the members of the Garoutte family in America may know and appreciate that they have a heritage to be proud of, William Babington Garoutte's 1948 edition endeavored to get together the authentic facts concerning the early life and family of our ancestor, Michael Garoutte, the Frenchman, who came to the aid of the American Colonies in 1775, giving freely of his money and property and becoming an honorable and patriotic citizen of his adopted country. He also attempted to list the names of all of his descendants.

"After the death of my father in 1892, I, being the youngest child, received the old records, papers, letters, Bible, etc. During the following fifty years, as I visited and corresponded with relatives, I picked up numerous items of Garoutte history. For the past three or four years I have made this a "hobby." Finding the descendants of all of the thirteen children of Michael and putting the information into print turned it into a "job." The results may not be all that I had hoped for but it represents much labor — a labor of love — and I here dedicate this labor and love to my dear Mother and Father.

It has been quite interesting to locate the Garoutte descendants and to trace their ancestors back to Michael; the fact that every person in the United States by the name of Garoutte was a descendant of one man made the search more interesting. One remarkable thing is that all of the sons of Michael migrated to the West, while all of the daughters married and remained in the East.

The Garouttes are just ordinary American families. The early descendants were principally farmers, though there were among them some preachers, lawyers and a State Supreme Court Judge; in fact they are represented in every profession and occupation. They were a sturdy, prolific people; many of the sons were among the first pioneers in settling the West. I find that the third generation, almost without exception, loved and praised their Garoutte ancestors. I have tried very hard to get a complete list of all descendants in the first, second and third generations so that the following generations can trace their ancestors. I trust that the descendants of each of the thirteen children of Michael will continue this genealogical history, bringing it down to date in their own families at least.

In presenting this history of the family, it is with some degree of pride in the fact that I have been successful in a measure in getting together a family history for the benefit of ourselves and those who shall come after us, but with genuine regret that there will be found omissions and imperfections in it. Most of the material has been copied two to four times; conflicting dates were received from different sources; I have been unable in some instances to decipher handwriting; and practically all of the French names are spelled two ways, probably caused by translating the French into English."

An Historic Outline

Your name took its initial formation between the 11th and 13th centuries and was first recorded as a descriptive identification to distinguish one person from another. By 1490 it had become a recognized surname and was passed on to others in the family. Changing through the centuries it has mutated to its present form.

At the time when your name evolved the Crusades began in the year 1095 under the direction of Pope Urban II, the need for identifying symbols arose and these took the form of coats-of-arms. Heralds recorded these armorial bearings and it is from these records that we have confirmed the coat of arms for your family name. The tinctures and charges represented on the coat-of-arms offer a link with the honors of the past to the present bearer of the name. Ancient warriors and statesmen of the same name, if not of the same family lineage, were responsible for the emergence of civilization and society from the era which we now call the 'dark ages' to the new dawn of the twentieth century.

It is unlikely that you will find a coat-of-arms exactly the same as your own because in the middle ages when Heraldry was a functional science records of arms grants existed in great numbers and were under the control of the Heralds. The shape of the shield on which your coat-of-arms has been drawn dates back to the 13th century. Its function then was to ward off arrows shot from the cross-bow, blows from maces and protection from battle-axes and swords.

DESCRIPTION OF GAROUTTE COAT OF ARMS

1. Crest or head armour
2. Manteling surrounds the crest or head armour
3. Red for purity and honor
4. Golden stars of military authority — black on stars indicates depth and dimension
5. The silver heraldic dove of peace with claws (all heraldic doves have claws)
6. Golden bough in dove's beak
7. Blue paneling

COAT OF ARMS OF THE GAROUTTE FAMILY

In the Armorial of France, folio 737 is found the description of the Garoutte coat-of-arms.
I.M.S. (Am. Monthly Jan. 1908, p. 60)

Ganson Institute of Heraldry

"On azure blue ground, a silver dove beaked and limbed with gules, bearing in its beak a golden bough. The lead is marked with gules and surmounted with three golden stars."

By way of explanation:
"Gules" is a French word meaning red and in Heraldry a term denoting red, intended perhaps to represent courage, animation or hardihood."

It is unlikely that you will find a coat-of-arms exactly the same as your own because in the middle ages when Heraldry was a functional science, records of arms grants existed in great numbers and were under the control of the Heralds. The shape of the shield on which your coat-of-arms has been drawn dates back to the 13th century. Its function then was to ward off arrows shot from the crossbow, blows from the masses and protection from battle-axes and swords.

THE MEANING OF THE NAME GAROUTTE

Your name took its initial formation between the 11th and 13th centuries and was first recorded as a descriptive identification to distinguish one person from another. By 1490 it had become a recognized surname and was passed on to others in the family. Changing through the centuries it has mutated to its present form.

At the time when your name evolved the Crusades began in the year 1095 under the direction of Pope Urban II, the need for identifying symbols arose and these took the form of coats-of-arms. Heralds recorded these armorial bearings and it is from these records that we have confirmed the coat of arms for your family name. The tincture and charges represented on the coat-of-arms offer a link with the honors of the past to the present bearer of the name. Ancient warriors and statesmen of the same name, if not of the same family lineage, were responsible for the emergence of civilization and society from the era which we now call the 'dark ages' to the new dawn of the twentieth century.

ABBREVIATIONS AND EXPLANATIONS

The figure indicates the number of the generation; the letter "b" indicates born, "d" dead, "m" married, and "dau." daughter.

A 1 indicates one of the 13 children of Michael and Sophia Garoutte, a 2 indicates Michael's grandchildren, a 3 his great-grandchildren, and so on.

For example: 5 before the name of Constance Joan Garoutte listed on page 104 of Chapter VII indicates she is of the 5th generation; the first 4 (reading up toward the top of the page) indicates her father, W. Bruce Garroutte, and (continuing reading up) the first 3 above indicates her grandfather, William B. Garoutte, Jr., and (reading up) the first 2 above indicates her great-grandfather, William B. Garoutte, Sr., and the first 1 (reading up) indicates her great-great-grandfather, James Smith Garoutte, the 7th son of Michael and Sophia Garoutte.

All third generations (marked with a 3) of one Chapter and the third generation of any other Chapter are third cousins. It is very easy to see who are your aunts, uncles, cousins, etc.

NOTE:

The National Society Daughters of the American Revolution has registered Michael Garoutte as a Patriot in service to the country in the Revolutionary War. It was through the efforts of the William Babbington Garoutte family that this was made possible, and it has opened the door for all lineal descendants of Michael and Sophie to be eligible for membership in the DAR and the SAR.

My husband and I had a very interesting evening with Henri Garoutte in 1970. He brought an interpreter to our hotel the evening before we left Marseilles and we had a most delightful evening visiting with them. He has traced the Garoutte history back to about 1500 so it was a great disappointment when we did not get to visit with him again. He did send me some information and pictures that will be shared with you. The following is a Citation he received at the end of WW II.

So much of the early Garoutte history in France is connected with this church.

CITATION FOR THE MEDAL OF FREEDOM

Sous-Lieutenant Henri Garoute, French Army, performed meritorious services in connection with military operations against an armed enemy from June to September 1943. During a crucial period in North Africa and prior to the landings in Southern France, he performed services of extreme value to the American forces. Active in territory overrun by the enemy, he continued faithfully at his post until finally captured and deported to Germany. Throughout his period of service, Sous-Lieutenant Garoute gave repeated proof of exemplary courage, loyalty, and indefatigable industry in furthering the Allied cause.

11 Jean-Marie Garoutte, b. 1910, m. Had 4 children.

11 Franz Garoutte, b. 1920, m. and had 4 children. (We met Franz and his wife, but due to the language barrier, we could not communicate with them.)

2 HENRI GAROUTTE, procureur (Attorney General) of the City of Marseilles, France was born about 1652. On Aug. 2, 1674, m. Angelique de Pistre, daughter of Charles and Angelique de Capeau. Parish: Les Accoules. He died about 1704. Henry was one of the last descendants of a very old Provencial family and had seven children:

3 Charles Garoutte, b. 1685. (Claude Garoutte is a descendant of Charles Garoutte and I will give you the information I have.) There is a skip between Charles of 1685 and Claude's great grandfather. I have tried to get this information but was unsuccessful.

4 THEOPHILE MARIUS GAROUTTE.

5 Gabriel Garoutte, m. Marguerite ————, b. Oct. 5, 1881. They had 1 child we know of.

6 Albert Garoutte, Claude's father, was born July 5, 1905, m. Suzanne ————. They had 2 children:

7 Jacqueline Garoutte, b. Jan. 7, 1930, m. Jacques Bourreli. They have 1 child:

8 Michelle Bourreli, b. about 1952. She spent some time in the U.S. in 1972 with the Gleason family in Tenn. She has been attending college, both here and in England as she wants to be an English teacher.

7 Claude Garoutte, b. Oct. 9, 1937, m. Denise ————. They have 2 children:

8 Regis Garoutte, b. Sept. 6, 1962; 7 Agnes Garoutte, b. Oct. 9, 1964.

My husband and I had the pleasure of attending the retirement party or "Manifestation" for Albert Garoutte on May 9, 1970 in Marseilles. It was a most delightful experience and one that will not soon be forgotten.

We arrived at the airport about 25 miles out of Marseilles in mid-afternoon and were met by two of Claude Garoutte's employees. His secretary walked up to us and called us by name as we entered the airport. This amazed us as she had not seen a picture or had a description of us. They took us to their place of business to meet with the Garouttes and then we were taken on a short tour of the city. That evening we had dinner with Monsieur and Madame Garoutte and Claude.

Thursday, Madame Garoutte, Jacqueline Bourreli and Michelle took us on a tour of the city and to their summer home at Cassis. We had dinner at Albert Garoutte's with the Bourreli family that evening. Eating is one of the pleasures of France and they spend hours at the evening meal (2-3 hrs.). This was quite an experience for the "speedy" American way of dining.

Marseilles is a very interesting city as it was built about 1,000 B.C. and has many signs of the early Mediterranean history we have read about. They were excavating for a Shopping Center in the center of town when they discovered some old Roman ruins. Work was stopped and they are now hunting for artifacts. We saw them bring out an old vase that was about 30 inches high and was still intact. They had uncovered a whole city block by 1972.

As we had left the U.S. on such short notice, we had no plans as to what we wanted to see or where we wanted to go, so Friday we spent the day getting tickets for the remainder of our European trip, and doing some window shopping.

Saturday was the big day. Claude's secretary met us at the Hotel at 9:15 A.M. and took us to the airport for the arrival of the dignitaries from Paris. After a cocktail party at the airport, we were taken to the T.V. station for more pictures and speeches. About 3 P.M. we all went to a quaint restaurant on the bay for dinner, which lasted 2½ hours. One of the highlights of the banquet was a huge birthday cake with 65 lighted (4th of July) sparklers on it. It made quite a sight.

That evening was the big party on the Yacht, the Gallus. There were about 500 guests and they had a most bountiful supper and all kinds of drinks. It was quite impressive as they had many speeches from dignitaries from Paris and Marseilles and the awarding of medals to Monsieur Garoutte during the ceremony. We could not understand what was being said, but different ones would say, "They are talking about you." One of the interesting events was the dance the young people started. They put a lighted candle on the floor and a few started dancing around it and then the candle was removed and they would pick up new dancers along the way until they were dancing all through the ship in a surpentine. At 1 A.M., we went back to our hotel to bed to get ready for another day. The following speeches were made by Claude and Monsieur Garoutte:

Speech made by Mr. Claude Garoutte

His Excellence the Secretary of State,
His Excellency the Prefect
His Excellency the Deputy Mayor,
Consuls, Parlementarians, Presidents, Ladies & Gentlemen.

I must firstly thank you greatly for being here to-night. In spite of your professional and family obligations and the possibility of spending a long week-end for Ascension Day, you who have come from all parts of France and represent the whole of Ceramics and Glassware Business, with a special mention to you both Mr. & Mrs. Thiesen who have come specially from the United States to attend this reception given by the Garoutte family, our cousins from Abroad and of whom we shall have the opportunity of speaking of this evening; on these days which are successively dedicated to customers, to our collaborators and to-night to Officials, to the Ceramics and Glassware Business and to all our friends, if Jacqueline and Claude have stepped out of their common and modest life in this unique reception, it is to honour Albert Garoutte.

If some of you regularly attend formal receptions, to-night's one has a special character and I must admit that if in life it is easy to praise someone the difficulty is much greater when it concerns your father.

Luck and Fate have allowed us to keep him in good health for 65 years and we must thank them.

On the path traced for you by Gabriel and Marguerite Garoutte, whose Memory I salute, and following their example you have, dear Father, not only continued the mission entrusted to you but you have gone far beyond and have given the Company that bears your name, all the necessary development and extent.

This could be the church, Les Accoulles, where Michael was christened.

You have been successful by your hard work devoting yourself entirely to it. In spite of that you have still found time to give your professional help to the National Syndicate of Ceramics and Glassware of which you were the President, to Advisors of the Foreign Board of Trade, to the Court of Trade, and during these past few years to the North Industrial Zone of which you are the President.

I must here greet our Mother Suzanne Garoutte, who, if she has always remained behind on her request, has always been during all this time the appreciated spouse and adviser.

You have also kept a young and active character and if in the times we are crossing where there are often clashes between generations, I can frankly say that we have never met with such a problem, but on the contrary the results of our conversations in which our point of views are often different but based on your personal experiences, have always turned out to be excellent.

I know that you are looking forward to a well-earned rest and half pension. I am only asking you to continue to help and advise us, to allow us the benefit of your experience and to bring us all your collaboration as you have always done for all the Organizations to which you belong.

Our task will be hard at a time which is also difficult as it belongs to what is known to some people as the "Generations of Decision."

In terms of the new responsibilities which I shall have to assume and for the welfare of the Ceramic and Glassware Business to which I am so attached, I shall exert myself to continue the glorious work which has been so brilliantly done by Albert Garoutte and the very good example shown to me.

In a few moments, His Excellency the Minister, Secretary of State to Youth, Sports & Leasures, will give you the gold medal for 50 years consecrated to the ideal of Labour; I know the importance you give to it and the award it means to you.

I can assure that we are proud of it, and that its glory will shine for a long time like the lights of the "GALLUS" to-night in the port of Marseilles.

Speech made by Mr. Albert Garoutte

His Excellency the Minister,
The Representatives of Civil & Military Authorities,
Ladies and Gentlemen

I am very moved by what I have just heard, but I must thank you all from the bottom of my heart for being here to-night.

His Excellency the Minister has decorated me with the Medal of Labour for 50 years of work, it is a great joy to me because work has been my ideal during all my life and more specially for all that concerns Ceramics and Glassware.

When I was born in Marseilles in 1905, it will was the nice Epoch, but I only have a vague remembrance of the years preceding the war of 1914 and when I left the High School in 1920, now known under the name of Lycee Thiers, I could not imagine the great adventure I was running into.

I am a descendant of an old family from Marseilles and am very pleased to have my American cousins with us to-night, they are the descendants of Michael Garoutte who went to America in 1775 with Lafayette and got married there and had 13 children. There are now more than 243 Garoutte families in America.

Fifty years of work have been dedicated to Ceramics and Glassware, either for my own personal business or for the National Syndicate of Wholesalers.

I paid my tribute by a heart attack in 1962, but recovered thanks to the close attention and care of my wife Suzanne Garoutte.

With the assistance of my son, Claude Garoutte and my son-in-law Jacques Bourreli, I could accept the charges of Adviser to Foreign Trade and I have the pleasure of collaborating with President BLUM, present to-night, and for the past five years, those of Member of the Court of Trade and President of the North Zone since a few years.

I am very pleased to be surrounded by the Members of Vercor who represent all the wholesalers of Ceramics and Glassware throughout the whole French country. I also see the Managers of big French Factories: St. Gobain, B.S.N., Arques, Verreries Marquot, Faienceries do Digoin, Sarreguemines, Salins, Varages.

I am passing on the succession to my son Claude but I shall always be beside him to help him and always ready to assist, as I have done all my life.

I wish we may meet again on my 75th Anniversary in a still more prosperous reception in our dear town, Marseilles.

Sunday, we were taken to Cassis to the summer home of the Garouttes for a buffet luncheon for the family and the dignitaries who were there. It was a most delightful experience and my husband, Jack, learned to play the national game of France. It is played with metal balls about the size of a baseball. They took us back to our hotel about 8:30 P.M. and the Alice In Wonderland story for Ellan Thiesen and husband was fast drawing to a close.

Claude and Denise made an extensive tour of the U.S. visiting the Garoutte families in 1971 and 1972. They attended the Garoutte Picnic in Cottage Grove, Ore. where they met some 85 members of the Garoutte families in this state, besides some at a patio dinner at our home in Salem, Ore.

We, again, had a most delightful visit with them in 1972 when we spent 2 months in Europe. I want to thank this lovely couple, Claude and Denise, for helping the American Garouttes to keep in touch with the French branch of the family.

2 Angelique Garoutte was born in 1686.

Cesar Antoine D'Espinassy, Nov. 16, 1756, at Signes, a small place near Toulon; the D'Espinassy families were all very wealthy, living in castles, as were the Garoutte families. Cesar D'Espinassy was at one time Captain of a War vessel. They had 3 children. Cesar D'Espinassy d. 1804.

4 Antoine Joseph Marie D'Espinassy, b. 1757, baptized Aug. 13, 1757 in Parish Saint. Married Lady Fontainelle, daughter of Marquis D'Fontainelle, and widow of M. Gobel. He was Captain of Royal Artillery in the Revolution, rapidly ascending to the position of General; was very rich, owning immense property in the town of Signes. He was twice elected Deputy (National Legislature) in Napoleon's time. When Napoleon was banished Joseph fled to Switzerland to avoid being executed, as he was one of the first among those who reformed the French Government. General Joseph D'Espinassy was a Conventional in the time of the French Revolution and the other branches of the family were Royalists. In Switzerland, in 1814, he took the name of his wife, Fontainelle. He died there May 23, 1829. They had four children:

5 Blaire Marius D'Espinassy, married Lady Capel Osnex, daughter of an English lord of the same name; they had 3 children:

6 Algernon D'Espinassy, born August 16, 1822, died young.

4 Claire Charlotte D'Espinassy, born in 1761 or 1762, lived in Castle Jaconere at Signes, France, (once occupied by her mother's family), and was a great authoress, wrote several books principally on topics such as: "Advise to Young Ladies," "How to Train Young Girls." She was never married and was known in France as "a great lady." She was buried at Signes in Nov., 1850, and the notice of her death, in French, follows:

It is generally understood that Michael was educated for the Priesthood and that he attended the same military schools as Lafayette, and that he was highly educated. It is a fact that they were close friends, and at the age of 25, in the year 1775, Michael Garoutte outfitted his own ship and left his home in Marseilles and came to America to aid the colonies in gaining their independence. Michael's American history will follow later.

2 Jean Baptiste Garoutte was born in 1697. He apparently had 5 children.
3 CLAUDE, MARIE, MARTEL, MADELEINE and NOEL.

The following information was sent to me by Henri Garoutte of Marseilles: "A copy and reference of the letter getting under way authorization for the "Great Saint Simon." The vessel which was commanded by Antoine Garoutte, Michael's father, is on file in the Admiralty Foundation Register, N IX B26 - Folio 1265. Also on the Admiralty Departmental records, Register No. IV B26 - Folio 1265 (at Marseille prefectoral office at 8 Sebastion St.) we read, that the Captain Antoine Garoutte commanding the vessel "The Great Saint Simon," shipowner M.M. Rigaud, Vernet, Co. merchants at Geneva, Switzerland, having received authorization to set sail for "San Domin que Island, by Versailles letter from Louis XV, navy minister under the day of February 17, 1753."

On the same register is found the Coast Guard appointment of Jean Joseph Garoutte from the same authority under the date of February 17, 1753.

In 1896 O.B. Lovett made a trip to France and reported as follows: "The records show all of the Garouttes belonged to the wealthy families and especially Antoine Garoutte, father of Michael Garoutte, and belonged to what was known in those days as "the nobility." The Garouttes here now are a Catholic priest and a Professor in a Seminary. I went out to Elzeard Garoutte's yesterday. He lives in a suburb of the city in an elegant stone mansion; has several acres of land, all walled by an immense stone wall 12 feet high, with heavy iron gates. His father was John Peter Joseph Garoutte, born May 10, 1790, and always lived where Elzeard now lives. His entire place was one continuous flower garden and park and fit for the habitation of the gods. He is a nice old man and all that I have met here were. I stood on the same place where old grandfather Garoutte was baptized 146 years 4 months and 4 days ago in the old stone church."

There is nothing to indicate who John Peter Joseph Garoutte was, but we assume he was a descendant of a brother of Antoine. Antoine became a wealthy Captain of vessels and an Admiral in the French Navy.

EXCERPTS FROM O.B. LOVETT'S LETTER WRITTEN IN 1896 IN MARSEILLES

"I visited Charlotte's tomb — there is a family of D'Espinassys now living in the Castle Jacomere (once occupied by Magdalene Garoutte's family). They were away from home at Toulon, so I went there and called on a young man, Captain D'Espinassy, who is in the 111 Regiment of French Artillery; he gave me the most of the information on the family. He is of another branch of the D'Espinassy family, his ancestor being a brother of the one who married Magdalene Garoutte. He told me that his family purchased the castle and all of the property that Magdalene's family had at Signes after the General went to Switzerland; the General was Magdalene's son. I secured from the records of the Mayor's office in Signes a copy of the speech delivered by the General on August 2, 1789, while he was Captain, addressed to the City Council and Citizens. It is a powerful and eloquent appeal in behalf of the French people and it may be one of the things which made him famous in France.

The Mayor was kind enough to give me a letter in the General's own handwriting, written while he was in Paris as Deputy, addressed to the citizens he represented. The speech and letter both show in him a kind and good heart. I am more than ever convinced that somebody got the benefit of a large estate that should have gone to Michael Garoutte's heirs. I would not be surprised if it did not go to the D'Espinassy family through Magdalene, Michael not being here to claim it. We should be proud of the family to which we belong for it appears from the record that there were none much greater in France, at the same time possessing a spirit of humanity which is to be commended very much, and I am glad indeed to find some of them have achieved such greatness. General Joseph D'Espinassy was one of the first to begin the Revolution, which resulted in so much good for the Republic of France."

Shortly before World War II, in the year 1939, Leo Haskett (a descendant of the 7th son of Michael Garoutte) and his wife Opal Haskett of Springfield, Missouri, made a trip to Europe. The following is a copy of a letter written by Mrs. Haskett giving the details of their visit to the town of Signes, France, and the old Garoutte castle:

"With reference to our visit to Signes. It is a difficult place to get to without a private automobile. We tried to rent a car at Marseilles but so much red tape made it impossible. We took a bus to Auxbagnes from Marseilles. From Auxbagnes we traveled by taxicab. The district is very provincial and it necessitated all of my college French and Leo's army French for us to even undertake the project. Signes is a typically Southern French village. The Mayor is the most important person in all French communities so we went there first. It happened to be early afternoon and the populace was at lunch which lasts a couple of hours. In the meantime we inquired from any one and every one we saw. The general impression we received was, Oh, yes, we know who they are — but who would dare intrude — that they were never seen in public. The word "gentile" which is untranslatable, was always used with reference to the family and spoken with great respect. I do not really think any one dreamed we would be admitted but if the trite saying, "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread," this was the case. We found the Mayor in later. He told us that the town had been the D'Espinassy estate in former years. He was no more eager for us to attempt an entree than the others. However, he directed us to the street. As in all of the villages the houses are flush with the sidewalk, stucco, of course. You knock at a door in the wall. A very correctly dressed maid (elderly) answered. We were reluctantly admitted into the dark hallway. Our accent and vocabulary were not so good; however, she must have concluded we were relatives, else I am sure she would not have dared invited us in. We waited for a long time it seemed. The atmosphere of the salon was very formal and dignified, furnished with handsome pieces, centuries old. It was dark and I imagine had been unchanged for years. The walls seemed to be lined with portraits and coats of arms. The walls were a luxurious red, a white fireplace with a Coat of Arms above was a contrast to the dark woods. In this somewhat austere setting a gentleman entered — I really mean a gentleman — who could not be mistaken, suave, handsomely and correctly attired, very poised. He did not find it easy to comprehend why we came. I am sure no French person would presume to intrude unannounced as we did upon a private family and of all families the D'Espinassys — but what won't these Americans do? This person lived part of the time in Paris so he could possibly understand better than the older woman. I have the impression there may have been two older women of the household but this I do not know. He turned to a handsomely bound book which contained family information. He asked us to find the name of the branch where we belonged. Of course, we did not belong to the D'Espinassys. That was confusing. Then we noticed a record of a deceased Garoutte, to which we pointed. His reply was, "A-h, Garoutte." And immediately he said that some one had previously been there. We imagined that he felt suspicious of us thereafter for he appeared curious. He said he never heard of a D'Espinassy going to America. He inquired if we had made a previous trip. He persisted in inquiries which we could not answer, or did not feel inclined to, as one felt every word was weighed, in just what connection we did not know, but wondered if they had not been much harassed by genealogists. Remember this middle-aged man was most dignified, intelligent, clever, and so highly respected in the community which was so isolated and we had no desire to be held for investigation, even though we were merely innocent curious Americans with a boldness and spirit of interest in the surroundings. It would be extremely difficult for a Frenchman to have understood why we spent the time, effort and money to locate a family of consequence without ulterior motive. He took our visit seriously, which simmered down, seemed pointless other than a curiosity to see an interesting old interior, with possibly a remote family connection as an entree. I assure you had we been a member of a branch of the D'Espinassys we should have been welcomed as only the French can offer hospitality so graciously. I do find in my notes the fact that he mentioned he was a descendant of Louis XIV. As tourists, we had a cine-kodak and asked him if we might have a picture. We stepped out to the inner courtyard. Leo took a picture of the gentleman and myself on the balcony. It is very dark and could not be printed. He asked us about our journey and invited us to call him when we visited Paris. We did not have the inclination.

In the Marseilles telephone directory we found several Garoutte names. One was a ceramic worker. We went to his establishment but I learned nothing. Another was a Priest of the largest church in Marseilles, I believe it was a Cathedral. We located the Parish House, knocked, a woman about seventy opened the door. She was his sister, and her resemblance to Aunt Eva made us speechless. Soon the Cure entered and he appeared to be a duplicate of Uncle Tom. I declare in another world we would have mistaken the two of them, not just the appearance but the mannerisms. The woman was a capable, energetic, assured type. She hovered over and cared for her brother. The Priest was sweet, kind and quiet-like. They had no knowledge of an American Garoutte, which disappointed us."

Samuel Earl Peterson Garoutte (a descendant of the third child of Michael Garoutte, Sr.) was in World War I from 1917 to 1919. While he was in France he visited a Mrs. Garoutte in Marseilles (she was manager of a petrol store). Her husband had been a Captain of Artillery and killed in action.

Harry Loper (a descendant of the third child of Michael Garoutte, Sr.) was in France at one time and saw the Garoutte Castle at Signes.

Clare Garoutte (a descendant of the 7th child of Michael Garoutte, Sr.) was in France in 1927 and obtained a certified copy of the certificates shown in this history from the Town Hall in Marseilles.

Special Interest Items

We have tried to find the oldest living descendants of Michael Garoutte in the United States. There are several in their late 80's and a few in the early 90's, but the oldest is Rohama Ethel Keasling, b. Apr. 3, 1889. She is 96 years old.

Rohama Ethel Keasling dau. of Martha Sophia Lovette and Alexander Keasling was born April 3, 1889, married Jan. 29, 1913 Herman Easterly. They had 2 children and were farmers in the Wichita, Kans. Area.
Her nephews, Gary and Fred Hinegardner submitted her name for the oldest known Garoutte descendant--96 years old. She is presently in a Care Home and it is reported she is a fun loving,vivacious person. It seems she collects teddy bears and she wouldn't have her picture taken with one. She was afraid peole would think her "silly".

Clay Garoutte,
Claude and Denise Garoutte

Clay Dean Garoutte was the son of Adam Vinedge Garoutte, born July 20, 1880, married Aug. 8, 1927 Margaret Hauley. They had 1 child and 2 grandchildren. The family moved to Oregon and settled near Cottage Grove, Oregon. He and his brother, George Carl Garoutte, were in business together at Bandon, Ore. until a fire destroyed the entire city and burned up their business and their homes. He was a stock man, ran a livery with his brother, had a garage and Clay brought the first Oakland auto to Bandon in 1912. He moved to Coquille, Ore. in 1946 for awhile then went back to Bandon, Ore. where he now resides. The picture was taken with Claude and Denise Garoutte of Marseilles, France at the Garoutte picnic in 1971.

TWINS

There are so many pairs of twins listed in this book that it might be interesting to have a page on twins. We find that Antoine and Lady Anne had the first pair and following on down through the years are about 80 sets listed in this issue and one set of triplets. There must be others that have been missed, also. Some families have had two pairs. James Lake Garoutte was one of these and we find that Lenora Pearl (Garoutte) Anthonsen, and Louis Earl Garoutte may be the oldest pair living today. They were born Aug. 24, 1899.

Earl Garoutte married Opal Hawk and they have five children, 14 grandchildren, and one great grandchild. Earl is now retired from the School District in Longview, Wash. and did carpentry work on his own. They reside in Portland, Oregon.

Pearl Garoutte married Marinus Anthonsen in Dec. 1920. They have one daughter and four grandchildren. They have been farmers all their lives; wheat farmers in Iowa and orchards and grapes in Grandview, Wash. They now reside in Greenfield, Iowa to be near their daughter.

There are over 800 family names listed in this book and around 4,650 families.

Cemeteries

There seem to be several Garoutte cemeteries throughout the country. The larger one is located near Republic, Mo. There is where William Babington Garoutte and many of the Garouttes who lived in the area around Springfield and Republic are buried.

One that was visited by the writer recently is found near Adel, Iowa. The land was given for that purpose by George Peterson Garoutte and, I believe, Sarah Garoutte was the first person buried there. It is now in other hands but is still referred to as the "Garoutte Hill," and the bridge near by is still known as the "Garoutte Bridge."

There are other graves in this cemetery besides Garouttes but we found the following: An oblong stone slab which had fallen was engraved "Maria, July 23, 1814-March 21, 1870." She was the wife of George Peterson Garoutte. The next stone was engraved "Susie, wife of Joseph B. Taylor 1812-1897." Another one was "Sarah, wife of Michael Garoutte, Oct. 26, 1854." Probably the mother of George P. Garoutte as we read, "Michael died in Lynchburg, Ohio in 1853 just as he was planning to move to Adel." Apparently Sarah proceeded to Adel as planned and died the following year. We also found the stone for Charles P. Garoutte, Oct. 1810-Jan. 7, 1896. George W. Garoutte, Aug. 1848-Aug. 29, 1908. Charles S. Garoutte, Sept. 18, 1856-June 23, 1923. A stone engraved "Joseph, son of Sp. & N. Garoutte, July 3, 1850" has not been identified in the cemetery. There were also stones for Leavertons, Taylors, and Piatts who are descendants of the Garouttes.

THE AMERICAN HISTORY OF MICHAEL GAROUTTE, SON OF ANTOINE GAROUTTE AND ANNE D'LASCOUR GAROUTTE

In 1775, Michael Garoutte outfitted one or two ships at Marseilles, at his own expense and brought a large number of men to America to aid the Colonists in their fight for freedom. He landed on the New Jersey shore, probably near Pleasant Mills, and during the early years of the Revolutionary War he assisted the colonial government. On account of the burning of the New Jersey Archives covering this war period, we are unable to obtain an authentic record of his help to the government but it has been handed down and generally understood that he loaned money to the government and outfitted and manned ships which he gave to the government. One ship was burned and sunk by the British at the Mullica river, at or near a place called Sand Point. A part of the wreck could be seen at low tide within the last few years. One ship is said to have been burned at Quebec. He was a volunteer officer on the brig "Enterprise" and the sloop of war, "Race Horse."

Michael Garoutte was riding with a party of American and French officers during fighting when they met a party of British officers. In the fight that followed, Michael was wounded in the head and left for dead. An old Quaker passing by with his wagon saw signs of life, carried him home and nursed him back to life, and Michael married his daughter, Sophia Smith.

He never received a pension. The records of the Pension Bureau at Washington, D.C. show that the pension he asked for was refused because his service was on private ships instead of ships of the Continental Government.

Michael Garoutte married Oct. 26, 1778, at Pleasant Mills, N.J. Sophia Smith, born Sept. 23, 1759, the daughter of James Smith, an inn-keeper. Her brothers and sister were: Bethia Smith, born 1754, died 1783, married a Mr. Gale; James Smith, Jr., and Isaac Smith. We have no further record of her mother or her family but it is known that they were Quakers. Inn-keepers in that day were appointed. They were responsible men of good morals and upstandingness. They were selected for the responsible position of "Host" to the strangers who came to that particular settlement. He was expected to decide on the qualities of the guest, whether a desirable member of the community or not, if he wanted to stay, and to report if they were a "menace to the morals."

Michael and Sophia Garoutte spent their married life in New Jersey, living at various places including Pleasant Mills and Tuckahoe, according to the data handed down. They had 13 children, all born in New Jersey.

In 1787 Michael Garoutte made a trip to France and visited his sister, Magdalene D'Espinassy, and her daughter, Charlotte D'Espinassy, at which time they wrote letters to Michael's wife, Sophia, in America, copies of which follow:

"France at Signes, February 26th, 1787

Dear Sister-in-Law:

I have seen with the greatest satisfaction my brother, your husband, after an absence of twelve years, without ever having heard from him. I assure you that his arrival has given us the greatest pleasure, particularly so, as he informs me he has established himself and is so happy as to possess a respectable wife. I cannot think after all my brother has said, although he sets no bounds to the praises he gives you, yet I cannot help thinking he is inwardly chagrined, particularly when he speaks of his children. Can it be that my brother is not happy? Alas! He deserves to be for the natural goodness of his heart. Since he conceals his troubles from me, I address myself to you, madam, for to beg you to form me and shall be most happy if it is the means of removing them.

I will not conceal from you that your husband belongs to the first nobility of Provence in France and, therefore, I beg you to be well persuaded of the sincere friendship with which I am for life, madam, dear sister-in-law,

Your very humble servant,
Magdeline Garoutte D'Espinassy

P.S. Have the goodness to embrace for me and my husband, your dear children, in waiting until I have the pleasure of taking in my arms little Nancy, whom my brother has promised me and I agree to educate, conformable to the education of her father. My son, who is Captain in the Corps of Royal Artillery, now is Captain Francois, is ignorant that his uncle is with us but my daughter, who enjoys with me the pleasure of her uncle's company, embraces her little cousins, waiting with impatience to see little Nancy.

"France at Signes, February 26th, 1787.

My dear Aunt:

I am going to assure you myself of the sincere friendship I have for you, after the praises given you by my uncle, your husband. We are enchanted with the connection which he has made. It is for this I beg you to be persuaded of the profound respect with which I am,

Your very humble servant,
Charlotte D'Espinassy

One good kiss for me to your little children and above all to the little Nancy, whom I wait for with open arms, my uncle has promised to me."

Nancy was never sent to France but remained with her father's family in New Jersey. He returned to France in 1793 and possibly made another trip later.

The following is taken from the book of Mrs. Anna Lora Garoutte Logan (a descendant of James Smith Garoutte, 7th child of Michael Garoutte), who has been for many years interested in gathering authentic facts concerning Michael Garoutte:

"The trinket you mention is a silver scissors hook. Twelve years after the close of the war, Michael returned to France and the Queen of France sent this trinket to Michael's wife, Sophia, also some silks, velvets and other materials. I have here a pincushion and needlebook made from that goods. It is pretty well frayed but the patterns are clear.

We understand the engraving "R.H." on the scissors hook stands for "Royal Highness." In those days the ladies hooked this on to their belts. There is a bar across the back for the tape to go through and the scissors were fastened to that, then they did not mislay their scissors.

It was to be handed on to the oldest daughter of the oldest daughter. Charlotte, when dying, gave it to her sister, Molly (Mary Garoutte Earling) to keep for her little daughter, Sarah, who was then 3 years old. Molly kept it her lifetime and outlived Sarah. After her death Martha Washington Earling, from Williamstown, N.J., her granddaughter, brought it to Atlantic City, N.J., to Sarah Burretta McAnney (granddaughter of Sarah Dayton). I was named for this aunt. She was married late and had no children, so she sent it to my mother for me — and I have it now.

Mrs. William A. French."

Note: Betty Youngman of Harvey Cedars, N.J., now has the scissors hook given to Michael by the Queen of France.

Michael Garoutte brought with him from France a Bible printed in French, in which he kept a diary and a record of the births, marriages and deaths of some of the members of his family, written in French and in his own handwriting. This Bible was left with his daughter, Eliza Garoutte, who married Charles Lovette, was handed down to her oldest daughter, Sophia, who gave it to her brother, Charles Lovette. He took it to the World's Fair at St. Louis in 1904 and left it there. Later the State of Missouri found a Charles Lovette near Springfield, Missouri, and sent it to him. The family holding the Bible now lives at Billings, Missouri. The following are copies of the notations made in this Bible by Michael Garoutte in his own handwriting in French; the same having been translated into English:

Notes taken from Michael's Bible:

On October 28, 1810, my daughter Elize fell sick and on the 9th of November she lost her speech and on the 25th she commenced to speak.

Sophia Sevier went away from me with her husband and son May 20, 1811, without the hope of ever seeing her again.

Sarah, my granddaughter, died at my house the 12th of March, 1811.

Sophia, my wife, died December 26, 1817, age 58 years 3 months and 3 days. Lived together 39 years 2 months.

The 14th of January, 1818, after the death of my wife, I came to live with my son, Smith, in a cabin in the woods. I left the 12th of May to live with my son Michael.

The 23rd of August, 1818, I came to live with McAfees, bringing with me a cow and a calf.

On the 29th of October, I arrived at the home of John Sevier with the family of McAfee and Samuel Garoutte, 1818.

I remember that the 5th of January, it was told me that I could no longer remain in the house. After all that I had done to make my living, both with property and other things.

The 12th of April, 1819, I went to McAfees and on the 24th of May I returned to Seviers. I remember that on the 22nd of May Sievier told me that I was a disgrace to him, and this before his children.

February 18th, 1820, I went to the Blacksmith's for a good ———.

On the 3rd day of May, I returned to Seviers.

Nancy Peterson, my daughter, died July 10, 1820, age 38 years and 3 months, and left seven children, the 10th day of July.

September 10th, 1820, I left the house of the Blacksmith and Seviers, after they had served me with the greatest villainy in the world, and I am determined after my death to make them know their evil conduct and on October 23rd, I arrived at the home of my daughter, Mary Earling, after 44 days of walking, because I had left without having a penny in my pocket.

Photostat copies of above extracts from Michael Garoutte's Bible have been left with the Pennsylvania Genealogical Society for reference.

The following verses were composed by Michael Garoutte on the death of his wife, Sophia Garoutte. Because the original manuscript is hardly legible, we have printed it.

To my Children and Friends:

Come my dear friends and mourn with me
In my afflicted state;
I am bereaved as you may see
Of my dear loving mate.

Her heart was bound with mine by love
God works for to maintain,
But she has gone to Christ above,
Forever there to reign.

Why should you mourn perhaps you will say,
Since God has thought it best
To take her soul from home away
To its eternal rest.

'Tis for my loss that I complain,
But I will mourn no more;
Since my great loss is but her gain —
She's found the heavenly shore.

My loss is great to lose my mate,
I am like the lonesome dove;
I'll go alone and sigh and mourn
My dear, my absent love.

My children cry, no Mother by
To dangle on the knee;
The breach is great, it doth create
Much grief as all may be.

But I do find my heart inclined
To lean to the Lord
Who doth me bless in my distress
And doth his help afford.

A presence sure makes me endure
Severest trouble now,
—— the crys at heavy loss
My stubborn will to bow.

Since it is so my sorrow go,
My God had sent His rod
That his will I must be still
And know that He is God.
Finis

My dear loving mate deceased December the 26, 1817, aged 58 years 3 months and 3 days. Lived together 39 years and 2 months. 13 children and two grandchildren.
Composed by M. Garoutte

One of the stories that has come to us is as follows:

It seems that Michael was brought before the King, Louis XVI, for engaging in a duel when dueling had been forbidden at the Court, on pain of death. When the King saw that it was Michael (his cousin), he simply waved him away with a command not to do it again.

Some of the reports handed down in the Garoutte family say that Michael was a full-blooded, high-nettled Frenchman. With the generosity and impulsiveness characteristic of his nature and race, he cast his whole life, honor and fortune with the uncertain issues of a foreign war. He gave up his country and a life of ease that he might give all to our weak and struggling nation. He sacrificed his estate by not returning to France to live, though it is said he received income from the estate in France until about 1820.

It is said that he assisted in organizing the five new England colonies and loaned them vast sums of money. The colonies were successful but he lost most of his fortune, because when the government building burned he lost all of his valuable papers and never collected the money due him. A part of this history has been handed down through the grandsons of Michael Garoutte, to-wit: Theodore Garoutte, Samuel P. Garoutte and George Peterson Garoutte, the latter the father of Mrs. May Garoutte Hart.

Michael Garoutte and Lafayette were close friends in France. After the Revolutionary War, Lafayette visited the United States twice, in 1784 and again in 1824 and each time he visited the Michael Garoutte family. In this connection, Mrs. May G. Hart gives us this information:

"Geo. P. Garoutte drove 20 miles in a phaeton and met General Marquis de LaFayette and took him to his home to visit his grandfather and father, on his second visit to America. When they met they kissed each other and cried with joy. I heard my father, George P. Garoutte, tell this to me."

And on one visit, it is said, that LaFayette took little Samuel on his knee and blessed him.

We know definitely that Michael Garoutte lived in New Jersey from the time he landed in this country until his death, about 1829; that all of his 13 children were born and married in New Jersey; that all of his sons migrated to the West — to Ohio, Indiana, Missouri and Iowa; that after his wife's death, according to notations in his Bible, he visited among his children.

We are greatly indebted to Mrs. Geo. H. Eckhardt of Hammonton, N.J., for checking the tax records of Burling County, N.J. She reports that Michael Garoutte paid taxes from 1796 to 1812 in Little Egg Harbor Township, which is across the Mullica river from Pleasant Mills.

The American Catholic Historical Research, Index I, Vol. XXIX, lists his as "Michael Garoutte, faithful to our country but not to his religion." In Vol. XXVII, p. 271, there is a sketch of his ancestry and life.

We have no authentic record of the place of death or burial of either Michael Garoutte or his wife, Sophia Garoutte.

Many people have tried to find where Michael died and is buried, some say there is no proof of death or place, but we do have some information that has come to our attention from Grace Garoutte, Adel, Iowa. I believe the Sevier Family History placed his death at Philadelphia as he was getting ready to go to France for a visit, but this does not seem logical as he spent most of his life around Washington Township, Burlington Co., N.J. according to tax records. (It seems the area started out as Egg Harbor Township, Gloucester Co., N.J. in 1781, listed as Little Egg Harbor Township, Burlington Co., in 1796 and Washington Township, Burlington Co. in 1806.) The last entry was in 1812. Michael Garret had 50 acres, 1 cow and listed as a householder. In 1809, his name was given as Michael Garoutte with the same entry of ownership.

Information has been received from records of an "Old Folks Home" in Pemberton, N.J. where it was found that Michael entered the home at the age of 70 years in 1820 and was discharged sometime later and stayed with his son, Michael, Jr. He was there when Lafayette made his trip to the colonies and visited with Michael in 1824. At the age of 76 or about 1826, he then went back to the Home and stayed for about 2 years. Again, on August 3, 1828, he was discharged.

We speak of the present generation gap, it seems Michael was a victim of the "generation gap" 150 years ago in so far as his children were concerned. From his notes in the family Bible, he moved from family to family every few months. It is said that he was found dead along the trail on August 29, 1829 at the age of 79 years, his children thinking he was with one of the other families. He is supposed to be buried near Pemberton, N.J. in an unmarked grave. A man who gave his all, family and fortune, for his adopted country — what more can you ask of a person???

THE OLDEST KNOWN DESCENDANT IN THE 1975 EDITION

Ivy Mae Garoutte, dau. of Wilkinson Burke Garoutte, was b. Sept. 24, 1880, m. Sept. 25, 1904 Oliver P. Flinn. They had 3 children and 9 grandchildren. She lived alone in a big old farm house on the old farm that has been in the Garoutte family for over a century. (At one time the Garoutte families owned almost a whole township of land at Adel.) We found her to be the most delightful, spry little lday and were sorry that we did not have more time to get acquainted. She had raised her own garden until that year when her children decided it was too hard for her as she was 94 years old.

Mrs. Mary Hoss Headman (a descendant of Sophia Garoutte, the 6th child of Michael and Sophia Garoutte, and who married John Sevier) gives us the following information in connection with the Daytons:

"The Daytons were of noble descent. Ralph Dayton was the original Emigrant. He was of Long Island. Descendants of Ralph Dayton have been admitted to the organization known as The Descendants of the Barons of Runameade-Magna Charta."

2 Sarah Dayton, born June 2, 1799.

NANCY GAROUTTE

CHAPTER II

1 NANCY ANN GAROUTTE, the 2nd child of Michael and Sophia Garoutte, born April 29, 1782; died July 10, 1820; married December 8, 1805, Jeremiah Peterson, IV, born March 10, 1776, died February 11, 1867; lived in Pleasant Mills, New Jersey. His ancestor, Gabriel Peterson, the leader of the Swedish Colony that settled along the Delaware River from Philadelphia to Wilmington, Del., had title to all that land before William Penn started Philadelphia (at the upper end of this grant). In 1638 the Colony came over under Peter Minucts and established Fort Christiana near Wilmington. They had 4 children as follows:

2 Michael Garoutte Peterson, born August 21, 1806, d. August 31, 1807. Information from another source says that Michael G. Peterson lived near Camden, New Jersey, married and had 2 children; and that he was killed in 1860 by a runaway team at Louisville, Kentucky.

2 Jessie Peterson, m. in Camden, N.J.; they had 4 children. Have no record of them.

2 Charlotte Peterson, b. Sept. 29, 1810, d. March 23, 1883, m. Nov. 28, 1829 Henry Wells Taylor, b. Feb. 18, 1808, d. May 4, 1890.

In Jan. 1826, Henry inherited from his father's estate several parcels of land and interests in common in cranberry bogs and upland marsh grazing meadows along the seashore and near Egg Harbor, Washington Township, Burlington County, N.J. He was born at Bridgeboro, Chesterfield Township, N.J.

These holdings he disposed of (probably to brothers) and left with his bride Charlotte for Pittsburgh, Penn. where he worked in the locomotive shops, eventually (according to legend) becoming Shopmaster. Whether the couple ever returned to visit in N.J. is unknown. Their children probably did visit their grandmother, uncles and aunts and it is possible that Joe and grandfather Jerry T., the second son of Thomas and Charlotte, attended an eastern university. They could as well have attended schools in either Missouri or Oregon or even in Pittsburgh, Penn. since there are schools in each place with the same names. However, Grandpa Taylor was quite familiar with the geography and places named in N.J., and N.Y.
Henry, Charlotte and family eventually left Pittsburgh and traveled to Missouri where they stayed for several seasons. In the spring of 1852, they joined the Hazelton Wagon Train for Oregon and arrived in early fall, settling before winter on their Donation Lane Claim of about 480 acres, Sec. for Henry and ½ Sec. for Charlotte. Their D.L.C. was just south of the now existing (1968) city of Cottage Grove, Oregon. In addition to farming Henry distributed beautiful Bibles, sold merchandise and bred fine road and work horses. Also, as an Elder, led Methodist meetings, when regular pastors could not be present or where there was no pastor. They had 9 children:

3 JOSEPH HENRY WALKER YALLS PETERSON TAYLOR, b. New Jersey, July 27, 1830. d. March 9, 1912, Lane Co. Oregon. m. December 24, 1858 to Mary Angeline Small. b. September 25, 1837 in Forsythe Co., Georgia, d. May 29, 1917 in Lane County, Oregon. Mary A. Taylor came from McMinn County, Tenn., with her parents, Hervey Small, and Nercissa Johnson Small, to Lane County, Oregon by Wagon Train in the year 1853. They were married in Southern Lane Co., on the Coast Fork of the Willamette River.

Joseph moved with his parents from New Jersey to Pennsylvania, to Ohio, to Southwestern Missouri and from April to September of 1852 to Oregon, with the party known as the Hazelton Wagon Train. During the winter of 1852-1853 he located the Donation Land Claim on the Coast Fork, where he lived and prospered the rest of his life.

In 1855 Joseph enlisted as a private in the Oregon Volunteers, during the Indian uprisings. He fought in the battles of Cow Creek, and Big Meadows. After the Big Meadows fight the Volunteers built a stockade, and a log-house for a commissary and Quartermaster headquarters. Joseph's enlistment was nearly up, but he volunteered as Quartermaster, and was given a discharge and sworn in as an officer. This was an irregular procedure, and although he was paid for his regular service, the state of Oregon refused to acknowledge his work as Quartermaster. He claimed it was the hardest work he had ever done in his life, but he was never paid for his services as Quartermaster. Nearly ten years had passed before he received all the pay that was acknowledged due to him. During the Civil War he wrote to Senator McBride, and asked him to try to collect the $115.00 he still had coming, and if he could get it, to donate it to the "Sanitary Commission." Senator McBride accomplished the mission, and wrote back to Joseph, enclosing a receipt for the money for the Sanitary Commission, which performed services for wounded soldiers similar to the work the Red Cross does today, providing many articles and services to make the misery of the wounded more bearable.

Joseph Taylor was a charter member of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Cottage Grove, and for many years a class leader and steward of the Church. Politically he was a Prohibitionist, and he held several local offices, including being a school director for 15 years.

Joseph and Mary A. Taylor are both buried in the Taylor-Lane Cemetery, near Cottage Grove, Oregon, as are all nine of their children.

4 Nercissa Taylor, b. Oct. 3, 1858; d. March 29, 1867.

4 Lincoln Taylor, b. January 21, 1861; d. July 14, 1929. m July 22, 1896 to Matilda Powell, b. May 6, 1865; d. Aug. 15, 1948. She was the daughter of Alexander Hamilton Powell and Mary Ann McKnight. Lincoln was born on his father's D.L. Claim. He graduated from the University of Oregon in 1883, and practiced Civil Engineering, Land Surveying, and operated a building and construction firm, specializing in Portland Cement concrete construction in the latter portion of his life. Lincoln and Tilla had no children.

4 John Henry Taylor, b. Feb. 3, 1863; d. Jan. 15, 1903. m. Aug. 20, 1892 to Ellie Minerva Brown, b. Dec. 11, 1866; d. Feb. 4, 1910. She was the daughter of Anderson Hugh Brown, and Minerva Burt, both Pioneers of 1853 in Douglas County, Oregon. John Henry was a professional Photographer, traveling throughout Oregon, setting up a tent at fairs and other attractions. He experimented with Color Photography and several of his pictures are owned by his descendants. Some still show various colors in them, although they were made more than 75 years ago. John and Ellie had three children.

July 23, 1814, at Port Elizabeth, N.J., married at Cincinnati, Ohio. They had 11 children. George lived in New Jersey until 1830 when he went with his parents' family to Ohio where, on April 21, 1833, he married Maria Eggman. She was the daughter of John Eggman (b. Jan. 23, 1781. d. Sept. 8, 1834) and his wife, Hannah Eggman, (b. Feb. 15, 1789. d. Dec. 6, 1815). Her older sister married Anthony Garoutte, an uncle of George P. Garoutte. The detailed history of their family appears in Chapter XII of this book. In 1843 he moved to Greene County, Missouri; from there he went to Dallas County, Iowa, arriving there Oct. 15, 1847, and entered land from the Government. When he went to Iowa he found an uncultivated wilderness about him, no white neighbors nearer than Adel (then called Penooch) six miles away. North of them were Indians. Often the Indian women would visit Mrs. Garoutte, particularly when she was ill, but never allowed the Indian men to come. George and his family had all the experiences of the early pioneers. He owned 237 acres of land and about 1865 he built a fine colonial home which, in 1937, was still standing in fine condition. George became well-to-do but in his urge to go west where he had several children living, he sold this beautiful home and farm well-equipped and moved his family to Cottage Grove, Ore., arriving there May 2, 1882. This was a few months before the first railroad was completed to the west and he took his family by stage from Redding, Calif., to Roseburg, Ore. Later he purchased a flour mill at Cottage Grove, Ore., which he and his son Adam operated. Later, he traded this mill for a farm six miles out on Row River, where he lived until his death, Dec. 21, 1894. He was buried at Cottage Grove, Ore., in the I.O.O.F. and Masonic Cemtery, having been a member of the I.O.O.F. Lodge at Adel, Iowa, for more than 50 years. An unfortunate event in his life was that his left arm was taken off while feeding a threshing machine when he was about 64 years old. However, he never gave up and did much active work after that. He had a host of friends and was generous and hospitable.

His first wife died Mar. 21, 1870, at Adel, Iowa, and he married Catherine Gross Aug. 20, 1870. She was born in Logan, Hawkins County, Ohio, Oct. 14, 1847, the daughter of John and Mary Gross, who were born in Germany. To this union 8 children were born, 5 in Iowa and the last 3 in Oregon. Six years after George P. Garoutte died, his widow, Catherine, married Isaac Land, and they lived for a number of years on a ranch at Dorena, Ore. In Mrs. May G. Hart's history book will be found a clipping containing the obituary notice of her mother, Mrs. Land, who died March 15, 1937.

Colen was in WWI. Colen Garoutte's Story of meeting the Garouttes in France:

When I was in the service during World War II and about to go overseas, my aunt, May Hart, asked me to try and locate members of the Garoutte family in France. Upon arriving in France, I would check in every town we entered to see if I could locate any of them, but it was quite some time before I had any luck.

Eventually, my regiment was transferred to Marseilles, where we were stationed in a hotel. Two chambermaids and a man clerk from the original staff were retained. Shortly thereafter one of the maids noticed my name plate on the desk and became quite excited. She started speaking very rapidly and I could not understand her with my meager grasp of the language. I finally got her stopped and called the clerk who could translate for me. It seems she knew a family of Garouttes there in Marseilles. They were neighbors of hers and lived close by. She arranged for a meeting after dinner on Sunday.

Upon arrival at the Garoutte's home, I found a language barrier; however, there was an Irish girl living nearby who could speak both languages. The girl had been caught in the war and could not go home. She acted as our interpreter until I got so I could speak the language more fluently. After a time we decided to compare our family histories and I wrote home for my wife to send ours to me. We found that Colonel Mark Anthony Garoutte who came to the United States with Lafayette had two brothers. One went to Russia and the other one went to Bordeau. The Gene Garoutte family I was visiting was a descendant of the brother who went to Russia and later returned to France.

During my stay in France, I visited this family many times and was their overnight guest on several occasions. They always made me feel like one of them; inviting me to their parties and treating me royally in every way. One night early in our acquaintance, I accidentally discovered they had only one bedroom and I found them sleeping on mattresses on the living room floor. I soon changed that. Another time, I had had a car accident on the way to Marseilles and they took care of me. My wounds were practically healed by the time I had to go back to camp.

One thing I remember so well was their generosity. They had one hen that laid an egg every other day and they insisted that I must have that egg to eat.

In return, I tried to do what I could for them. They couldn't get new shoes and were wearing wooden soles fastened to their old shoes. I was able to get G.I. shoes for the men. For the ladies, we had to make a pattern of their shoe sizes and I got some nurses' shoes for them.

Their appreciation for any kindness on my part was most generous. I enjoyed these people very much and they were so happy to hear of the brother who had migrated to the United States so long ago.

In 1840, twenty-three year old Michael C. Garoutte migrated to the Republic of Texas, which was still very much a wild frontier. The year after Michael's arrival, an isolated family was killed by Indians who left their scalps to dry on the rocks at the sulphur springs where the County seat of Hopkins County, Sulphur Springs, now stands. Michael helped build the first house in Sulphur Springs, according to a news item in "The Hopkins County Echo," a newspaper that is still being published.

Surprise Birthday With A Number of Presents Given By the Children, Grandchildren and Neighbors to Mike Garroutte Nov. 14, 1894

"Everyone in this part of Hopkins knows uncle Mike Garroutte. He was given quite a pleasant surprise last Wednesday by his many descendants and neighbors. Several families

—Alexanders, Greens, Garouttes, Morelands, etc. quietly agreed among themselves and prepared sumptuous dinners and stormed Uncle Mike and wife and spent a day long to be remembered by all. The old couple were presented with quite a lot of presents. Uncle Mike was born Nov. 14, 1816 in Gloster County, N.J. He left there is 1829 and located in Cincinnati, Ohio. He lived there until 1837 and then moved to Michigan City on Lake Michigan. Here he did not tarry long and next year found him in Jasper county, Mo. He left there in the winter of 1840 and came to Texas, reaching Clarksville, March 14, 1840. The winter of 1842 found him located in Hopkins where he has been ever since. He drove the first wagon ever driven between the creeks White Oak and Sulphur. With four other men he built the first house erected in the city of Sulphur Springs. The house was of logs and built for a man named John Matthews, often called "Turkey John" from his reputation for eating turkey. It was commonly said that he could lie flat on his back and eat a whole roasted turkey. The house was sold to Ab Netherly who afterward sold it to Dock Davis who is living there yet.

Mr. Garroutte cast his first ballot for Andrew Jackson and has voted a straight Democratic ticket ever since. He was the oldest voter in Black Jack at the recent election. He voted the democratic ticket and intends doing so again if he lives until next election. He is one of a family of thirteen children of whom six are now living, two brothers and one sister older and three brothers younger than himself.

For the last fifty years they have been widely scattered from Oregon to Mississippi.

His wife, a hale and hearty old lady who can do more work now than many young women, was born March 26, 1821 at Tuscaloosa, Ala. She moved from there to Tenn. in 1840 and came to Texas in 1844 and has also been in Hopkins ever since.

According to nature they can not be with us many years. They have done their part to develop our great state and the sacrifices and dangers they and others have passed through should endear them to every lover of Texas."

In 1854, Michael filed a preemption claim on 320 acres near Black Jack Grove, later called Cumby, Texas. He fenced his claim with a rail fence, splitting the rails himself, and carrying many of them on his shoulders over a creek on a footlog. (Verified by General Land Office, Austin).

Michael and Emily had seven children, however, the first four died within a two year period in 1866-1868. The family cemetery was started with the death of eight year old Charles in 1866. Ownership of the tiny cemetery is still retained by descendants. Michael C., Emily, and six of their seven children, as well as a great grandson, were buried there. In 1973, when a new fence was needed, the name GAROUTTE was placed above the gate.

In the fall of 1877, when Michael Asahl was sixteen years old, he went to Honey Grove, Fannin County, Texas, to complete his schooling. He lived with his Uncle "Thee" that year. Theodore B. Garoutte, his father's youngest brother had moved to Texas in 1874. After finishing High School in Honey Grove, Michael A. returned to Hopkins County where he taught school and did bookkeeping and accounting. He married when he was nineteen and died nine years later, leaving his young widow with three small children. He was buried in the Garoutte Cemetery.

Miss Clarine Branom,
Portales, N.M.

Dear Miss: —

You will please pardon my delay in replying to your letter of January 4, as I have had a very busy life the past few months.

The only history I have of your Grandfather Garoutte's family is as follows.

He came with La Fayette to America (i. e. your Great-great-grandfather), settled in New Jersey, died in Philadelphia. His son, Michael Garoutte, your great grandfather, was father of your grandfather, Michael Coat Garoutte. Your great-grandfather was born and reared in New Jersey, married to Sarah, daughter of George and Judith Peterson of that state.

Your grandfather was born at Pleasant Mills, New Jersey, but I do not know the date. Samuel P. Garoutte, a brother of your grandfather, had the family record, but he is now deceased. His daughter, Mrs. Alice Price, c/o Ambassador Hotel, San Francisco, Ca., should have the record.

If you write her and get the record or a certified copy, it would help you in tracing back the family to New Jersey, and from records there you can probably find the names on back to Philadelphia and the Revolutionary war.

I'd be glad to aid you in any way I am able to trace your lineage. Father used to say it could be traced back to Louis XVI.

I am glad to hear from one of Uncle Mike's children and should like to meet you or any of the others any time.

Cordially yrs.
/s/ Dota Garoutte,

William Marquis Garoutte, named in honor of the Marquis de LaFayette, changed the spelling of his name to Marcus. There were few, if any other, Frenchmen in Texas at that time, and even the name Garoutte was a bit too exotic for the English, Scotch, and Irish pioneers, so they ignored the correct pronunciation of the name and called him Mark Garrett. His father had been called "Bud" Garrett.

Marcus had a wonderful sense of humor. He loved people and could talk to anyone. Before the days of road maps, when traveling with a group, he was always the one sent to inquire directions, although he inevitably had to be sent for so the journey could be continued.

His first trip across Texas was made when he was about thirteen years old. His Uncle Will and Aunt Mary Garoutte were moving "out west." A few days after their departure, Marcus decided he wanted to go with them. He told only his younger sister, Eula Theone, of his plans, and taking his own horse, and a few clothes, slipped out one morning before daybreak. Riding cross country and living off the land, Marcus caught up with his Uncle Will within a week's time. He helped his Uncle make one crop. His mother had written his Aunt Mary, asking her to send Marcus home. Her succinct reply had been, "I didn't send for him."

In the fall of 1915, Marcus made his second trip across Texas — this time by covered wagon. Leaving his family homestead, he moved his family to Oklahoma by way of the Texas Panhandle. By the time he reached Wheeler County, the ground was covered with snow and both children had the whooping cough, so Marcus decided to spend the winter there. He rented living quarters and got a job. In the Spring, they went on to Altus, Okla. where his cousin, Ross Mead, son of Ida Garoutte Mead, lived. He was always very fond of Ross.

After three years, Marcus returned to Hopkins County, Texas. While in Oklahoma, Perry had typhoid fever, a second daughter, Ruthmary, was born, and the United States had entered World War I. The draft was edging up on Marcus and he wanted Perry to be near their families in the event that he should have to go into the army.

In 1925, Marcus made his third long trip across Texas, moving his family (by rail this time) to Hale County, near Plainview. There they were known only as Garoutte. About a year later, an incident occurred that amused Marcus immensely. He met some Hopkins County friends in the bank one day. As they were exchanging greetings, Marcus was addressed as Mark Garrett. Marcus overheard a Hale Co. neighbor say to another, "What do you suppose that fellow did back there (East Texas) to cause him to change his name?"

Garoutte — Mary A. Garoutte was born November 1, 1827, and died August 9, 1902. Her parents were Samuel and Nancy Allen. She was a native of Cincinnati, Ohio, where she joined the M.E. Church at the age of 15; was married August 22, 1847, to T.B. Garoutte; was the mother of nine children. Seven, all of whom are grown, are living, and the aged husband who has passed his 75th year, are left to mourn her loss. Sister Garoutte lived a consistent Christian life — faithful to her Lord in bearing testimony to his saving power in public services and in her home. She held her membership in the M.E. Church until the family moved to Honey Grove, Texas, in 1874, when she united with the M.E. Church, South. The family moved to Taylor County in 1890, and built a beautiful home near Merkel, which mother left for mansion above. Mourn not, dear ones, as those who have no hope, for you who wait will soon be called, and mother will be there to welcome you to the eternal home where parting never comes.

It is thought Archibald McAfee went to N.J. to seek employment at the Batsto Iron Works which was located near Pleasant Mills. Their marriage and the names of their first three children — Elizabeth, Sophia and Mary Magdelene — were recorded in Michael Garoutte's Bible. He also wrote that after his wife's death he went to live with the McAfees Aug. 23, 1818 and on Oct. 29, 1818 he, the family of McAfees and Samuel Garoutte arrived at the home of John and Sophia Sevier in Greene Co., Tenn. A deed recorded in the Greene Co. Court house, states that Archibald McAfee bought 275 acres of land April 13, 1825 from John Sevier, paying $457.00 cash. Archibald continued his occupation as blacksmith and established the Camp Creek Iron Works. The McAfee home was located in a valley at the foothills of the Unaka Mountains near a large spring. Bethia Garoutte McAfee has been remembered through generations as being very religious. She and her husband gave the land where the McAfee church and Cemetery is located. This log structure was destroyed by a wind storm. The present church located on this property is Mt. Tabor Methodist (M.E.) Church. The first grave in this cemetery was a daughter of the McAfees. During an illness she had requested that she be buried on a hillside near a woodland where she had so often heard the song of a dove. Archibald, Bethia and many of their descendants are buried in this cemetery, also Bethia's sister and her husband, Charles Lovett. Sophia, Bethia and Eliza, the daughters of Michael Garoutte have many descendants in East Tenn. Archibald McAfee was also a farmer, he and Bethia had 9 children:

He had settled on Memphis as home before meeting the school teacher who has been his wife and business partner for 31 years. Known as "a jeweler's jeweler," he not only engraves and repairs jewelry, but designs and creates Masonic jewels and manufactures a complete line of antique reproductions. A Sevier crest ring, circled with diamonds, which he designed and made by hand, is her favorite piece of jewelry; to him the most interesting he has created is a jewel for past grand masters of Free and Accepted Masons in Tenn. They began their business in 1943 with $285 in Capital, no tools nor equipment in a little shop in the skyscraper at the corner of Main and Union. Today the Hays company occupies a floor in that same building. It has not been all work and no play for this husband and wife team, Dixie is greatly interested in D.A.R. and The Manikan Town Huguenots. For state offices already held in these two organizations, she has just been elected to "Who's Who of American Women." Lowell has climbed Masonic summits. He served as Grand Commander of Knight Templar in Tenn. and was chosen to Red Cross of Constantine, Royal Order of Scotland and Knight Commander in the Court of Honor in Scottish Rite. The family lived at Tuckahoe and Pleasant Mills, N.J., moving to Duck Creek, Washington County, Ohio, about 1820. They moved to St. Joseph County, Indiana, in 1830. There in February, 1831, on rolling prairie Mary Babington Garoutte was frozen to death as she was returning from visiting a sick neighbor. Her little children were tenderly cared for by the women of a camp of friendly Indians located nearby until spring. Then James Smith Garoutte took them back to his relatives in Ohio. From there in 1837 he and his family moved to Greene County, Missouri, and settled about 20 miles west of Springfield in Pond Creek Township. Mr. Garoutte gave the land for the Garoutte Cemetery. Jim Patterson has been a cowboy, Broadway star, band leader and lyceum entertainer. He has two absorbing interests in life, that of breeding horses and completing a book about horses.

Jim Patterson became a cowboy. He worked for some of the most famous outfits in the west, including the O Double D and the JJ, Colorado cattle spreads and the OBO horse ranch in Colorado. At 19, Patterson was the youngest foreman in Wyoming and he was to ride for outfits in Montana and Canada. Now, all this time, like any good cowboy, Patterson was playing the guitar. He took it along with him when he went to New York as a bronc rider in the Madison Square Garden Rodeo. Spotted from the audience, he was asked to try out for "Green Grow the Lilacs," Lynn Riggs' play on which the musical classic, "Oklahoma" was based. So, in 1931, Jim Patterson was no longer a bronc rider in the Madison Square Garden rodeo. He was a Broadway star as Curley in the Riggs' hit for the Theater Guild. He appeared in other Theater Guild productions, organized his own dance orchestra and toured with it and appeared on the Lyceum circuit as a speaker.

ADDITIONAL HISTORY OF WILLIAM BABINGTON GAROUTTE AND HIS WIFE, MAHETABLE TANNAHILL GAROUTTE, TO WHOM THIS BOOK IS DEDICATED

WILLIAM BABINGTON GAROUTTE, son of James Smith Garoutte, Chapter VII, was born in Ohio in 1820, migrated to Indiana when 10 years old and there his mother was frozen to death. The family of nine small children were cared for by friendly Indian women from a nearby camp until spring, at which time the family was taken back to relatives in Ohio. When 17 years old in 1837 he, with his father's family, migrated to Greene County, Missouri, 20 miles west of Springfield, a very sparsely settled country at that time.

When 21 years of age he married Amanda Hazelton and began the accumulation of family and land. It was said that he attended regular school only 17 months but that he studied at every opportunity and gained an exceptional education for that period and location. At the age of 21 he was a Justice of the Peace and taught school for several terms.

When 29 years old, in 1849, with his three brothers, Jerry, James S. and Michael, he crossed the plains in the "Gold Rush" to California, at times joining caravans, leaving behind him his wife and their small children. He described his trip in detail, in poetry, consisting of 132 verses of four lines each. This was written by day by day as they traveled. A few verses follow:

The nineteenth of April,
In the year forty-nine,
With my friends I parted,
The land of gold to find.
With friends I left my wife;
With her, our little ones;
To cross the western wilds,
Toward the setting sun.
I bade them all farewell,
I left them in God's care;
If they but trust His grace,
His blessings they shall share.
To bid dear friends farewell,
Part with a tender wife,
To me the greatest cross,
I e'er took up in life.

We passed down the Humboldt,
That runs toward the South;
It rises in the mountains,
A desert is its mouth.
This river at its junction,
With the porous earth,
Was the corruptest fountain
That ever had a birth.
In mires that were near,
And sulphuris pools close by;
Were many thousand beasts
Left there to sink and die.
Back where the teams gave out
I also gave out, too,
With toil and care, worn out,
Unable to go through.

The following verses describe the scenery — plains, rivers, wild animals, mountains, buffalo, antelope, deer, drowning in the River Platte; also some 1500 Sioux Indian warriors, Steeple Rock, Independence Rock, Devil's Gate and the Humboldt River:

Mr. Garoutte told in verse of the terrible hardships of the desert, the mirage, the suffering from heat and thirst, and of finally going up the swift Truckee and Salmon Trout rivers to Donner Lake. Later he wrote "A Miner's Life in California in 1849," consisting of 33 verses. The trip and gold mining was rugged for any man.

His brother Michael died with cholera in 1850 and was buried in Sacramento. Leaving his brothers, Jerry and James, in California Mr. Garoutte went by ship to the Isthmus of Panama, walking across the Isthmus from the Pacific Ocean to the Gulf of Mexico, and then by boat to the Mississippi and up the River to St. Louis and home by stage, arriving home in 1852.

He was a Master Mason for many years. In 1856 he was a candidate for the State Senate but was defeated by Judge Brice by only 77 votes; and in 1859 was a candidate for Congress.

During the Civil War he was offered and refused a Brigadier General's commission. In 1862 he went South with Gen. Price and in the same year returned to Greene County, Mo., as Provost Marshal for the County, but was taken prisoner before the Confederate troops arrived; was taken to St. Louis then to Johnson's Island and Fort McHenry and held prisoner for two years. The writer of this history has a wonderful book written by him while a prisoner and while in Texas buying horses and mules for the Confederate Army. The two following verses are excerpts from that book:

From home and thee why am I driven
Missouri, thou my native state
Assist me, Oh! Thou God of Heaven
To bear with fortitude my fate
And here the truth of all rehearse
With simple words composed in verse.

It was because Missouri's mind
Most absolutely did refuse
With abolition to combine
When she assumed the right to choose
And only there her aid would lend
Where she in peace her life could spend.

Just before the war closed, he was exchanged at Demopolis, Ala., and sent by Gen. Hardee with dispatches to Gen. Price in Arkansas. The Greene County (Mo.) History states that he lost $20,000.00 on account of the war. From the close of the war to 1874, he was recouping his losses and acquiring more land and educating his large family. Four of his daughters became school teachers.

While in St. Louis, Mo., in 1874, a large hotel burned, causing the death of a large number of people. This led Mr. Garoutte to invent a fire escape which he sold very quickly for $2,000, which probably started his career as an "Inventor." The writer has in his possession the Patent papers dated July 6, 1875, of a corn planter which was the "Daddy" of the present day planter. Also, he invited a cotton and seed planting machine, the Patent being dated Feb. 10, 1880, and it was known that he invented the "Knotter" for the grain binder. A person in the machine shop where Mr. Garoutte was making the model stole his idea, sent in papers and secured the Patent ahead of Mr. Garoutte. The McCormick and other binders used this "Knotter" for years.

His later years from 1885 until his death in 1892 were spent on the "Big Spring Farm," writing for and debating through the columns of the Journal of Agriculture. The writer remembers that Mr. Garoutte bound all of these writings but after his death they were lost. At the time of his death he owned 560 acres of good farm land, mostly in Greene County, Missouri.

As indicated by all of his writings, Mr. Garoutte was a religious man, of sterling qualities. His family and every one loved and respected him. Here is what one of his grandaughters wrote concerning him: "I find myself wondering, who among us, has in some measure developed our inheritance from Grandfather Garoutte. From pleasant childhood memories I have built a great reverence for his memory — his wonderful physique — his fine head and flowing white hair — his strong face, but most of all for his fine mind and great vision. The older I grow the more I realize the real worth of people like him — people who put intangibles first — who measure life in terms beyond material, personal success — who have the ability and take the time for creative thought and who feel a sense of responsibility for the well being of their fellowmen. We could use a few thoughtful, courageous men like him in our present confused national state of mind."

The only child of Mr. Garoutte who seems to have inherited a talent for writing poetry was Melissa Garoutte Anderson, who composed a book of poems. We selected three verses from one of her poems, "My Girlhood Days":

I was asked by ladies of the O.E.S.
To write a comic reading and what do you guess?
My mind wandered back to the days of long ago
When I wore grapevine hoops and had my first beau.
It was one Sabbath morning in the month of May
When the storm had abated and the clouds passed away,
That I noticed nearby on an old oak tree
A grapevine growing that just suited me.
I went to the house with a leap and a bound
And in my petticoat I sewed that grapevine round and round
And over this I carefully spread
My homespun dress of blue and red.

Mrs. Myrtle Anderson Brashear, a daughter of the above Mrs. Anderson, has published a booklet of "Memory Verses." We quote one poem below:

"Were I to Make A Poem"

Were I to make a poem of a life,
I would not write of toil or strife,
But rather, of achievement won,
Of victory gained, a journey run.
I would not tell of failures past,
But glorious hope that good may last,
And strength and courage be at hand
To bless and comfort every man.

Mr. Garoutte's first wife was Amanda Hazleton, the daughter of Royle Hazleton, born March 1, 1786, and his wife, Mahetable Arms, born Oct. 27, 1786; they were married Dec. 20, 1803. Amanda's brothers and sisters were:

Asenath, b. Sept. 27, 1808; Sophrona, b. May 9, 1811; Terressa, b. March 25, 1813 (m. Tannahill); Thomas, b. April 17, 1815; Sally, b. April 14, 1817; Royle H., b. Nov. 5, 1818; Nathaniel S., b. Amanda died April 7, 1857, and left five girls from one to fifteen years of age. He married Mahetable Tannahill, a girl 19 years of age and a niece of his first wife, who reared these girls together with her own nine children, who followed quite regularly. Mahetable Tannahill was the daughter of Magruder Tannahill, who was born June 26, 1808, married on June 8, 1934 to Terressa Hazleton, born March 25, 1813, died in 1900; she was married to Mr. Garoutte Oct. 15, 1857. Mahetable's brothers and sisters were:

Experiences of Mahetable Garoutte During the Civil War

The scarcity of boys necessitated more than half of the girls working out of doors and in the fields. The civil war added to the task as the husband and father was away from home most of the five years, and because they lived in a border state first the Northern and then the Southern soldiers over-ran the territory and took most everything they had and then the bushwackers took the balance. The situation became so bad that her husband sent a woman with an ox team and wagon to take the family to near Berryville, Ark., where they secured some food but no salt. The family made this trip with an ox and a cow pulling one wagon and the woman's ox team and wagon was loaded with the seven children and what food and clothing they had left; through snow and over about 175 miles of poor Ozark Mountain trails. In crossing the White River the wagon and oxen floated down stream, and when they reached the other shore the bank was so steep that they carried the small children out on the wagon tongue to safety, finally reaching their destination without the help of a man. This was in the Black River Swamps, and while living there one child, Ida, was born and one daughter, Sophrona, lost her eyesight. When the war was over, the family returned to their home farm in Greene Co., Mo.

Charles and Addie farmed for 10 yrs. in Lawrence and Greene Counties, Mo. Her health wasn't too good and the doctor said for them to go to Colo. where the climate was dry and higher. They sold everything but dishes, packed two trunks with clothes and a big bed roll and started for Colo. Charles heard of homestead land the government had. The large lots were taken except one 160 acres that was suitable for farming, so they took it. They had to stay on the homestead for 6 months of the year. They lived in a tent the first summer while building a house. A lot of the people lived in sod houses. They were warm and safer. At first the only schooling the children got was from Sept. or Oct. to Feb. They moved into town where Charles worked in the sugar beet factory to help buy what would be needed when they went back to the homestead in Feb. They planted more crops each year, mostly corn, pinto beans, wheat and potatoes. Their mother made all their clothes as 25 miles from town is a long way in a wagon or buggy. Just once in a while they would see a car and it would scare the horses. In 1914, after 7 long years of hard work, the land belonged to them. Addie's health improved and in the fall of 1920 they sold the farm for cash to an Indian Family that had a good income from some oil wells in Okla. They had a nice place in Longmont, Colo. and Charles wanted to work one more winter so he could farm again. He took a job in the coal mines. The coal has a habit of sliding. One day after loading several cars with coal, all at once the coal slid and caught his foot, broke both legs. He was hurt badly, only lived 3 days, died from a blood clot on the brain. 34 years later her mother broke her hip and after 3 weeks in the hospital suffered a stroke and passed away. They had a good life and a happy one. They had 4 children:

Feb. 1, 1954, bu. in Center Point Cemetery by her husband. Mattie's family has quite a story that will be included. The family lived in McDonald Co., Mo. when the Civil War broke out. Besides the father and mother there were five children, two boys and 3 girls. One day a bunch of Bushwhackers came to the house and took the father and one boy. When they were a short distrance from the house several shots were herd and some one went to investigate and found the father shot to death and the boy was missing never to be heard of agian. The other boy had gone west with a neighbor to take some horses out west. He took sick and died before reaching home. Out of the family, the father, mother and two boys either died or disappeared within one month's time. The oldest girl, Jane, was still in her teens when she married a man by the name of Hargus and they took little Mattie, age 2, and raised her along with his 2 daughters. They moved to Clinton, Mo. where they would be better protected from the Bushwhackers and lived there until Mattie was grown. She attended school and taught one term before she and Napoleon Owens were married. They had 8 chidren.

4 Charles Owens, the second child of Napoleon Bonaparte and Mattie Owens, was b. May 24, 1887 on Rock Prairie in Pond Creek township, Greene County, Mo. 20 miles west of Springfield on the old Owens homestead. He moved to Ozark County, Mo. in 1897 and attended the Gainesville Normal School. He taught 20 years in the rural schools of that county. He was elected and served one term as an Associate Judge of the County Court. He moved to Ava, Mo. and went to work for the Federal Land Bank of St. Louis, Mo. appraising farms and making farm loans for them. He worked 35 years for them until his retirement.

NOTE: Charles Owens has a bureau that James Smith Garoutte made in Ohio after his wife Mary Babington Garoutte froze to death. It was given to his daughter Nancy. After her death her children gave it to my father, N.B. Owens, at father's death it was given to me in 1901. James Smith Garoutte hauled it in a wagon pulled by an ox team to his old homestead near Springfield. It is made of Mahogany wood and is still as sound as a dollar. There are only 8 nails in it and they hold the top down. I have a son, Leonard Owens, that has a walking cane owned and used by James Smith Garoutte in his last days.

Soon after their marriage, they moved to Cincinnati, Ohio, where Archibald M. held various offices. At the outbreak of the Civil War, he was appointed a captain in the quartermaster's department by President Lincoln. His military service is the subject of a most honorable public document, including an Act of Congress: Report No. 438, to the first session of the Forty-fourth Congress, June 28, 1876. During this service, which was emphatically endorsed by Generals Fremont, Cox, Schofield and Sherman, Captain Garoutte bought and sold and was responsible for millions of dollars' worth of military property. Through all, he kept his habits of Spartan simplicity and lived and died a poor man. From the beginning, in 1861, to the close of special service, some five years later, Captain Garoutte kept his son, Leroy W., with him at headquarters, where the uniformed lad acted as an orderly, and was much noticed by various Generals. The life was a wonderful experience for a boy from eleven to sixteen, and what was lost from schools was rapidly learned later on. They had 2 children:

I was very sorry I could not meet you at the GRAND HOTEL at PARIS but I only knew you were there at the time of my departure owing to a mistake at the desk when I was given a room number which was not my room at the HOTEL.

As you will see from the heading of this paper Societe' GAROUTTE is a family business of wholesalers of ceramics and glassware. The Company occupies the tenth place on the French Market as distributors of glassware and earthenware. The Company was founded in 1914 by Gabriel GAROUTTE who died in 1939 and is now managed by Albert GAROUTTE and assisted by his son-in-law Jacques Bourreli and myself.

We deal with countries all over the world and more especially with a product well-known in your country under the name of Pyroceram and manufactured by CORNING GLASSWARE.

I was really very sorry I did not meet you, because I think that during your European tour which led you through ENGLAND, BELGIUM, HOLLAND, GERMANY, SWITZERLAND and FRANCE and before you boarded the QUEEN ELIZABETH you could have come to Marseilles where we could have been very happy to welcome you.

Are you considering a new trip to FRANCE unless restricted by American Government regulations concerning touring, as we would indeed be very pleased to welcome you.

I was pleased to have your family tree which, I can assure you, indirectly meets the history of the GAROUTTE family who originates from Marseilles.

2 Mary Ann Garoutte, 4th child of Samuel and Jane Reynolds Garoutte, born Jan. 22, 1829 in Gasconade Co., Missouri, d. June 1, 1881, buried in Wade Chapel Cemetery, Republic, Mo.; m. in Greene Co., Mo., Sept. 20, 1849, Pearson Dunkin Dodd, son of Thomas Dodd, the first settler in Twnsp. 28, Brookline, Missouri, from Elbert Co., Georgia. Mary Ann and Pearson Dodd homesteaded land near a trading post "Little York" north of the present town of Republic. All of their children were born on this farm, and Pearson died there three months before the birth of their 11th child. He was a victim of arthritis; died at the age of 49 years. Mary Ann was a midwife, riding an old blind mare thru all kinds of weather to the aid of a neighbor. She was brave and resourceful in outwitting the hoodlums. Life in the border state of Missouri was very hard. After the Union and Confederate armies withdrew, the populace was at the mercy of roving hoodlum bands who stole everything except the land, which could not be eaten. Mary Ann's three sons were too young to farm the land and she lost her farm. Then her father, Samuel Garoutte, gave her a tract of his own lands north of Billings, Missouri. There she lived in a log house and reared her eleven children:

3 MARY ANN (POLLY) DODD, b. Aug. 14, 1850 in Greene Co., Mo., d. Aug. 12, 1898 in Newark, Ark.; m. March 21, 1871, John Miller, by W.D. Hubbard, justice of the peace. They had 7 children:

4 William Miller, no record;
4 Herschel Miller, no record;
4 Hettie Miller, no record;
4 Elrita Miller; m. ——— Jones, had children, lived in Magness, Ark. No record;
4 Archie Franklin Miller; m. Lived in Arkansas. One child recorded:
5 Vivian Miller; m. 1931 in Little Rock, Ark., Mynatt L. Miller; lived in Oregon in 1957. They had 3 children:
6 Anne Miller; m. James I. Turner; had children.
6 Peggy Miller; m. William P. Dodd, Jr.; had children.
6 Kay Miller, b. Nov. 1943. No records.
4 Oscar Miller, no record;
4 Laurs Miller, no record;

3 ELIZABETH JANE DODD, b. Jan. 21, 1852 in Greene Co., Mo., d. May 13, 1945 in Greene Co., Mo.; m. June 5, 1869, Daniel P. Mooneyham, b. in Benton Co., Ill. 1848, d. in Greene Co., Mo. 1885. Jane (Dodd) Mooneyham was a worthy daughter of pioneer parents. She and her husband homesteaded farmland south of Republic, Mo., being required, also, to pay a sum of money to the railroad company. Jane had 7 children, ranging from 13 years to 11 months when she was widowed in 1855. Then a flaw in the title of her farm, required repayment to the company. This was a difficult task for a widow and two teenage children, but by many economies and hardships the land was hers and never out of her possession during her long lifetime. She lived on her farm after her children had married and gone.

Known to the community as "Aunt Jane," she and a gentle mare, "Roxie," made many trips to Republic or Billings. At the age of 90 years her house, with its contents, burned. She rented a house in Republic and began to make plans to build a new house. That dream was not realized, as she suffered a broken hip, a few weeks later dying on Mother's Day, May 13, 1945. She is buried in Wade Chapel Cemetery, Republic, Mo. Their seven children were:

4 Arena Frances Mooneyham, b. March 13, 1871 Billings, Mo., d. March 2, 1963, buried Wade Chapel Cemetery, Republic, Mo.; m. William Henry Bolds, b. March 13, 1868 Fayette Co., Ill., d. Jan. 9, 1936, buried Amarillo, Texas. Occupation, farmer and cement contractor. They had 5 children:

5 George William Bolds, b. Feb. 13, 1891 Republic, Mo., d. Feb. 10, 1946, buried Los Angeles, Calif.; occupation, barber; m. 1909, Nora Evaline (Martin) Bishop, b. Aug. 18, 1887 Billings, Mo., d. April 3, 1941, buried Fresno, Calif. They had 4 children:

The following material was sent in by Steve L. Garoutte, Sand Spgs, Okla.

About 1888 David Garoutte loaded up his covered wagon and headed west to homestead some land in Western Kansas. Late one evening he crossed a creek and pulled up on a flat place to camp. While he was watering his mules, a bunch of renegade Indians found his camp and was hacking his wagon tongue with their tommyhawks and another was setting fire to his camp. He unharnessed his mules and jumped on one and started back down the road. After riding all night he met Gen. George Forseythe with his mounted troops. He told him what had happened and the General said, "He was looking for some renegade Indians that had massacred six white families." David was deputized and returned with the troops to his wagon. The Scouts found the Indian camp about 6 miles west so they waited until day break and then killed all of them. He said, "He heard Gen. Forsythe give orders to not spare a single life." David did not have to fight--he just stood back and watched.

The General then fitted him out with a wagon and provisons and he went on his way to file a claim on land in Western Kansas.

It seems that in the spring of 1897, David Garoutte and his 3 sons decided to try to find the head of the Arkansas River. They loaded their wagon and started west. Things went well for a few hundred miles and then Jerome and Bill got restless and decided to turn back. They built a large skiff and equipped it for a trip back to Tulsa, Okla. They only had provisions for 10 days so they fished and killed animals along the river and helped farmers with haying, etc. for money. They arrived home safely to be soon joined by the rest of the party, glad to be home.

The above information was sent in by Maurice Lindsay with the following Note:

We live just 7 miles up the road from Batsto, N.J. Batsto is now the center piece of the huge Wharton State Park. A new visitor center has just been completed, the old village and mansion have been refurbished. The black smith shop, sawmill and grist mill are still in operation. Each year many thousands of people visit Batsto Village enjoying arts and crafts, shows and celebrations of historical events.

Michael Garoutte would be amazed to see it as it seems he had a black-smith shop in Batsto, N.J. at one time.

Very few people knew my father-in-law had a name other than "Tip." To our family he was Papa; he was a most wonderful man. He was known far and near. I am sorry my children were not old enough to remember their grandfather. Grandmother died a young woman, leaving him with six children to raise. Fern, the oldest, was only 12 years old; the next one was an invalid from birth. The youngest, my husband, Dan, was not yet two years old. He was a poor man but a hard worker. He loved his family and kept them all with him. He took a great interest in the county schools and did the best he could by his children's education. He enjoyed good health up until a short time before he died. He would walk wherever he went and most always barefooted, as he liked to go without his shoes. It is told that one time he went to see his sister, Amy Garoutte, who ran a drygoods store in Billings and it embarrassed her when he walked in carrying his shoes over his back. My family lived only a short way from the Garoutte's and we all visited in their home quite often, always had a good time. Mr. Garoutte would never accept any help from the government. He believed in working for what he got. I've seen him read the Bible many times late at night and I believe the Lord has a place in heaven for him. They had 6 children:

2 Amy Bethia Garoutte, 2nd child of William D. and Elizabeth Dutten (Duton) Garoutte, b. Sept. 27, 1832 Maryetta, Ohio, d. Nov. 23, 1917. When a child she came to Greene Co., Mo.; m. Oct. 23, 1851, George Marion Laney, b. Oct. 26, 1829 Greene Co., Tenn., d. July 17, 1893. Both are buried in Laney cemetery and is lovingly referred to by their descendants as being on Grandma Laney's farm (2½ miles west of Billings, Mo.) As a young man, George M. Laney, with two or three brothers came to Missouri walking most of the way along side of a covered wagon. When George and Amy lived in a log cabin, near the Laney Cemetery, he was called to the door one night by whom he thought were neighbors. As he looked into the evening dusk, he saw a gun pointed at him. He turned in the door to close it and was shot in the back. The bullet went all the way through his body and lodged in the front of his chest. Elmer, his youngest son, told his children and grandchildren about playing with the bullet in his father's chest when a child. He fled out the back way and hid west of the cabin, near the place where the home we called Grandma Laney's (1964) was, until the Bush Whackers were gone. The house has now been moved away (1967). They had 15 children and also raised a grandson Marion Gardner.

A tribute by Rose Marie Elery to her father. He was in the U.S. Army as a deep sea diver 2 years. After spending several years as a laborer, he went to work for an electrical contracting company. He soon learned the trade and opened his own business. In later years he found the operation of the business with other employees too taxing and he chose to work alone.

When his sister, Angeline died, he took two of her children into his home and raised them as his own. He served twenty years on the Springdale Volunteer Fire Dept. Dad was a wonderful person as well as a wonderful father. He was a very busy man but never too busy for his family.

DAVID ANTHONY GAROUTTE

CHAPTER XII

DAVID ANTHONY GAROUTTE, 12th child of Michael Garoutte and Sophia (Smith) Garoutte, was born Nov. 20, 1800, in New Jersey, and died in Greene County, Missouri. According to the "History of Greene Co.," he followed his father's profession of Merchant Marine sailor. He married an Englishwoman, Margaret F. Eggman. She was the sister of Maria Eggman, who married George P. Garoutte (see Chapter III) a nephew of Anthony Garoutte. In 1830, Anthony moved his family from New Jersey to Ohio, and in 1838 came to Pond Creek Twp., Greene Co., Mo. settling within three miles of the Garoutte Cemetery. Anthony helped to organize Blades Chapel Methodist Congregation in 1844. For a time services were held in his home. His wife, Margaret (Eggman) Garoutte, died in 1855, and in a very short time Anthony married a second and much younger wife, Margaret Reynolds. Anthony and Margaret had 13 children that we have record of. This Margaret was the sister of Sarah E. Reynolds who had married Anthony's oldest son, John E. Garoutte. Sarah and Margaret Reynolds were the oldest children in the family of Benjamin Ladd Reynolds who had moved his family from Kentucky to Illinois, and to Missouri before 1849. The Reynolds farm joined that of Samuel Garoutte on the south. Reynolds raised and trained fine riding horses of Kentucky stock. He owned the land on which the Rose Hill Cemetery north of Billings is located. The first grave was for baby Esther Reynolds in 1859. For many years a wooden marker was inscribed "First Grave." A stone marker now bears that inscription. Reynolds was so outspoken in his support of the Union that he was forced to hide to escape capture by the "Bushwackers" and died in 1861 of exposure.

Anthony and Margaret (Reynolds) Garoutte were married in Greene Co., Mo., Dec. 13, 1855. He died about 1861, but she lived until 1866, dying of tuberculosis, which had been a plague during the Civil War. They had 3 children:

3 DAVID ANTHONY GAROUTTE, died at birth, Sept. 27, 1856.

The children, Mary Eliza and Thomas, lived for a while with their Aunt Betsey Garoutte, but later went to live in Kansas with their half-brother, John E. Garoutte and his wife, Sarah (Reynolds). She was their own aunt.

John E. Garoutte and Sarah E. Reynolds were married in Greene Co., Mo. Dec. 9, 1849. (These marriage records were researched in the County Court House at Springfield, Missouri.) L.M.

PART OF A LETTER WRITTEN BY DONNA HUDLOW BISHOP IN 1966

My father came from Georgia with his folks of which there were 4 children; three boys and one girl. There was Sarah Jane, Alfred, Robert and my father William Wright Hudlow. My grandmother was named Margaret and I think my grandfather was named William. But they came from Georgia in a covered wagon and stopped in Missouri. My father and Alfred married the Garoutte sisters, Eliza Jane and Rhoda Caroline Garoutte. The rest of the folks came west except my folks and we youngsters were all born close to Pottersville, Mo.

Alfred went up to Hayden Lake, Idaho, and he and his wife settled there and died and are buried there. Then the family broke up and I don't know where they all went.

HOOVER DAM PROJECT MANAGER TO RETIRE AFTER 31 YEARS OF FEDERAL SERVICE

BOULDER CITY, Nev. L. J. Hudlow, Boulder Canyon Project Manager at Hoover Dam, an authority on hydroelectric powerplant construction and operation, will retire Feb. 28, after 31 years of continuous Federal service, Regional Director A.B. West announced today.

Mr. Hudlow's entire Federal career has been with the Bureau of Reclamation, the last 30 years on the Boulder Canyon Project staff at world-famous Hoover Dan. He came to Boulder City in March 1933 to assist with surveys on the pioneer multipurpose dam on the Colorado River between Nevada and Arizona, then under construction.

Appointed Asst. Director of Power in September 1948, Mr. Hudlow was promoted to his present position in April 1954.

He held key positions in the construction of the hydroelectric plant at the downstream toe of the 726-foot high dam-still the Western Hemisphere's highest. He supervised construction of the plant, auxiliary structures, and installation of the generating equipment, and served on the plant's engineering operations staff. His career was climaxed by the installation of Hoover Dam's 17th and last generating unit in the Nevada wing of the power plant.

3 MINNIE ETHEL GAROUTTE, b. June 10, 1888, d. Mar. 19, 1941, m. June 22, 1905 Joseph Leonard Sturdevant. As a bride of 17, Minnie and her husband migrated to the hills of Idaho where they lived for a while and settled on a homestead in Benawah Co., Idaho, among the Couer d'Alene Indians. She used to tell about her experiences with the Indians and how their first crops were destroyed by renegade Indians who did not want the white people settling on their lands. It did not take long for the neighboring Indians to make friends with the young couple and their babies, and to give them a helping hand in sickness and death. Minnie was very ill in 1916 and one of the Indian ladies rode her horse 10 miles to Tekoa, Wn. to get a doctor for her, and many other acts of kindness left the family with fond memories of the Indians. The family lived there until the fall of 1917 when Minnie and the family went back to Mo. to see her family for the first time in 12 years. After a session with smallpox, the family returned to Idaho and settled in a small town near Lewiston, Idaho. They had 7 children and raised 4 of them. Minnie and Leonard are both bur. at Moscow, Idaho where they lived several years.

4 Ethel Sturdevant, b. 1906, d. 1909.

4 Charles Leonard Sturdevant, b. Oct. 16, 1907, was crippled when he fell from a stack of grain at the age of 3 and then in the 1st or 2nd grade at the country school, a "big hillbilly" knocked him down and stepped on his back, injuring his spine beyond repair. The grit and spunk of this man has been a marvel throughout his life. He would not let anyone or anything get in his way of being completely independent. Even though he only weighed from 75 to 80 lbs. and was about 4 ft, 10 inches tall. He has done everything from driving loaded logging trucks out of the rugged Idaho Mountains to running crop crews in Calif. He d. in Oct. 1976 a few days after his birthday while watching the World Series.

4 Nora Bell Sturdevant, b. 1908, b. 1909.

4 Ellan Sturdevant, b. May 12, 1911, m. Mar. 10, 1929 Chester O. Douglas, b. Feb. 27, 1905, d. June 25, 1953. He was a Radar Tech. (Aviation) during WWII, stationed at the Experimental Lab. in Washington, D.C. and had just received his 15 year pin from Sears Roebuck when he had a heart attack while out for a ride one evening. After the death of (Doug), Ellan bought an acreage in the country and moved her little boys out of town to raise them. True to her pioneering heritage, she had the land cleared, road built, designed and helped build a lovely 2 story ranch house. It was a dream home overlooking the beautiful Willamette Valley. They had 2 children.

(4) Ellan, m. Dec. 30, 1966, John H. Thiesen, b. July 14, 1907 and they moved to a retirement center. They both retired May 1, 1972. He from United Flavor Pac, Co. and Ellan from Oregon State Forestry Department. In 1977, they started a building project that included a 6-Unit apartment complex and 2 houses. After several building projects over the years, Ellan decided she had had enough and the years were creeping up too fast. It has not all been hard work though as they made many wonderful trips since retiring. Two trips to Hawaii, one to the fascinating and exciting caravan trip to the Pyramids and on to Cancune, Mexico and later down the Bahai, across to the mainland by boat and up the mainland to Nogalas, Ariz. with a side trip to the Copper Canyon. A Motorhome trip up the Alcan Highway to Kenai, Alaska with friends in 1983 was one of the highlights of our trips. We camped on the banks of the Kenai River and Jack caught a 48 lb. King salmon. Both caught smaller Sockeyes and had them canned. In 1970, the Garouttes in France invied us to a celebration retirement party for Albert Garoutte, and then in 1972 we spent 2 months in Europe, visiting relatives and sight seeing. Jack's folks came over from Germany in 1892 so we had a lot of folks to look up. An Amtrack trip to Roanoke, Va. last summer was different and fun, including a trip to Wash. D. C. Jack's son and wife live in Roanoke. She is a Special Ed. teacher and he is with Belfour Co. Our trip was cut short by Jack's cancers and we came home. We are thankful that one kind is in remission at present, but the other has no cure and is rare. So life goes on one day at a time. Jack's dau. Lynda Phelps and her husband, Ed. live in Morage, Cal. both work for the telephone company. She is a Dist. Mgr. in one Dept. My hobbies are fishing, game hunting, needle work and golf. Jack's are fishing, hunting and golf when he is able.

Dec. 22, 1963, buried, Pleasant Hill Cemetery, Greene Co., Tenn. Dr. C.S. Love, "the Country Doctor" was his trade mark. He was one of four children left with his widowed mother. His one ambition was to become a doctor, but with scanty means his mother was much opposed to it. He couldn't give up the idea and he ordered some medical books and hid them in the barn loft and would slip out when he had a chance to study them. His mother found this out and thought it no longer any use to deprive him of his one great ambition. He studied under a Doctor, in Medical College at Nashville, Tenn. by the name of Dr. Vertrees. He attended Woolsey College, Greene Co., his mother pledged to pay so much and Charles and his brother, John, worked it out in day work carrying brick and mortar. When Dr. Love returned home to begin his practice he started out on foot. He was young and single. His first maternity case was also a young woman and this was her first child. When she learned this young man was to be her doctor she became so mad that she had her son in a very short time. When this son married, this same Dr. Love delivered his children. He and his bride settled on Horse Creek near Chuckey, Tenn. Dr. Love belonged to that class of Christian Servitor, "The Country Doctor." Never was the night too dark nor the Summoner too poor and shabby to have him refuse a call. More often than not he remained uncompensated. He accepted anything from beans, molasses, apple butter, fence posts, wood and livestock for his services. On Sept. 28, 1923, he suffered a paralytic stroke and never gained consciousness. He was well known and much loved and his passing was a great loss to his community. (Submitted by Mrs. H.M. McCoy).
